| About FSRH                                | ➢ The committee is different from all other committees in the Faculty as it is designed to do specific work for the GMC, for which the Faculty has a contract, and a case turn around time of 7 weeks.
   ➢ The number of cases vary between 0 and 3 for a year.
   ➢ Cases may present with up to 1500 pages, which have to be read and assessed against the Faculty Specialist Training Programme, and Specialty Specific Guidelines.
   ➢ Assessments normally take one day and are scored on a Faculty Evaluation form. The Committee then meets to discuss face-to-face the cases, and then completes a GMC report, and this will usually take the best part of another day. |
| Role overview                             | ➢ Ensure all readings for an application review is completed prior to the Evaluation Panel.
   ➢ Panel Members will be given a Faculty Evaluation Form on which to record their assessments.
   ➢ Have an excellent demonstrable understanding of the most current CSR Curriculum.
   ➢ Post-meeting feedback must be completed in the form of a report to the GMC.
   ➢ Attendance at training prior to commencement is required, either by attending Equivalence Meetings as an observer, or by undertaking a GMC Training Day. |
| Terms of role                             | ➢ Evaluators are expected to adhere to the GMC Members’ Code of Conduct and must declare any previous personal or working experience of the individual candidates.
   ➢ They must hold GMC registration with license to practice, plus specialist registration
   ➢ To commit to attend selected meetings throughout the year when CSR/CESR applications are received.
   ➢ To work alongside Equivalence Chair and other CESR Evaluators to ensure high quality assessments and reviews of CESR applications.
   ➢ Evaluators are indemnified for their work by the GMC providing they have adhered to the principles laid down by the GMC in undertaking the work. |
| Eligibility – Criteria                     | ➢ Evaluators must be able to demonstrate a genuine interest and commitment in the medical specialty of CSRH.
   ➢ Must hold the MFSRH and be on the Specialist Register.
   ➢ Knowledge of assessment and application process. |
