

DFSRH 2020 Learner Charter

The FSRH Diploma (DFSRH) is made available for healthcare professionals who are training or already working in women's health in general practice, community and hospital settings. The FSRH is committed to providing the knowledge and skills, through the DFSRH learning and assessment pathways, necessary to undertake effective community sexual and reproductive health (SRH) consultations and improve general practice in this area of medicine.

To uphold our commitment, we will provide:

- A clear curriculum and assessment framework
- A learning and assessment strategy that is complementary to the candidates' day to day practice
- Support pathways for the candidates' learning and assessment journey through FSRH Registered Trainers and General Training Programme Directors, as well as the FSRH
- Educational products that support learning including the eSRH and other supplementary learning
- Clear outcomes and assessment opportunities that will allow these to be achieved
- The LMS so that candidates can track their learning and consolidate reflections
- The criteria upon which candidates will be assessed so they can gauge their readiness and necessary preparation for assessments
- A variety of learning opportunities that cater to differing learning styles including topic investigation, classroom-based learning, e-learning and reflection
- Opportunities for candidates to draw on their own clinical experience to consolidate learning through the DFSRH

We ask candidates to:

- Be proactive and independent in their learning journey
- To become familiar with the rules and regulations of the programme
- Take full advantage of products made available to facilitate learning and preparation for assessments
- Reach out for support through pathways made available when any issues arise
- Make contact with the FSRH should situations change that will impact on their DFSRH journey

Probity

Candidates are reminded that failure to be honest or making false declarations are considered breaches of probity and could result in referral to employers, trainers/supervisors, the GMC, NMC or regulatory bodies.

Consent

Patients/public should be made aware when training is taking place and be given the option of opting out with no detriment to their treatment. When there is an assessor present during a consultation they should be introduced, and the purpose of their presence explained.

Confidentiality

Reflective practice material will be recorded in the Independent Learning Portfolio and used as example of learning development. Candidates are reminded to be mindful of the need to ensure confidentiality of individuals involved in the experience. They are to ensure that patient identifiable data is not included. In the case of a data breach, the candidate's employer will be informed, and together they will implement their own information governance policy.

Safeguarding

Candidates are expected to maintain safeguarding procedures and protocol as per their workplace stipulations. The Child and Young person and Adult safeguarding (or equivalent) learning and completion as part of the ILP, is expected to be maintained throughout the duration of candidate's DFSRH journey.

Verification: Principles of Care

In sending the above statement, Candidates are verifying that they have read and will abide by the six principles of care as outlined in the guidance below:

See Guidance for FSRH trainees whose personal beliefs conflict with the provision of abortion or any method of contraception

FSRH Privacy Policy

The FSRH is committed to protecting privacy. This Privacy Policy sets out how we collect, use, store and protect any information that is given to us, in compliance with the requirements of the Data Protection Laws which are the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) (EU) 2016/679 and the UK Data Protection Act 2018.

Intellectual Property Rights

All intellectual property rights for any FSRH course including documents, materials and content belonging to and produced by the FSRH should not be used for purposes other than FSRH training. Should anyone wish to use any of the IPR for purposes other than FSRH training they must seek the FSRH's approval in writing with your request via our copyright request form. We aim to respond to submissions of this nature within one working week.
