

Joint BASHH & FSRH Conference 2023

An Inclusive Future in Sexual and Reproductive Health

We know that maintaining good sexual and reproductive health (SRH) has profound and positive long-term effects on individuals and society. We also know that many people experience poor SRH health outcomes. This one-day conference uniquely brings together BASHH and FSRH expertise to address sexual and reproductive health inequalities, and to consider how to achieve positive changes to practices and services.
